

CONGRESSIONAL HEART CAUCUS

The Congressional Congenital Heart Caucus serves as an informal group of Members dedicated to issues related to congenital heart defects, one of the most common birth defects and emerging public health burdens, and educating other Members and their constituents on this subject.

To join the Congressional Congenital Heart Caucus:

- In the House, contact Thomas at Congressman Bilirakis' office at Thomas.Power@mail.house.gov.
- In the Senate, email advocacy@achaheart.org.

The caucus is simply a tool to educate; there is no financial or legislative commitment!

Caucus Chair: The Honorable Gus Bilirakis (FL-12)

Caucus Co-Chair: The Honorable Adam Schiff (CA-28)

Members

Earl Blumenauer (OR-3)

Suzanne Bonamici (OR-1)

Corrine Brown (FL-5)

Vern Buchanan (FL-16)

Shelley Moore Capito (WV-2)

Kathy Castor (FL-14)

Howard Coble (NC-6)

Steve Cohen (TN-9)

Ander Crenshaw (FL-4)

Tim Griffin (AR-2)

Richard Hanna (NY-22)

Tom Latham (IA-3)

Dave Loebsack (IA-2)

Joseph Pitts (PA-16)

Mark Pocan (WI-2)

Jared Polis (CO-2)

Bill Posey (FL-8)

Mike Quigley (IL-5)

Austin Scott (GA-8)

Bill Young (FL-13)

Don't see your Member of Congress on this list?

Be sure to contact them (link to the "how to contact your legislator page) to invite them to join! It's simple!